

Community Resources

Disclaimer: Most of the resources listed below are people and organizations we have worked with directly. The ones we have not worked with directly have been interviewed to determine if their services would be appropriate for our students. We attempt to make referrals to appropriate resources whenever possible, however, we cannot guarantee what your individual experience will be with these professionals. This list is merely a compilation of relevant professional community resources that we have deemed capable of serving the needs of our students.*

 Checking with your insurance company for a referral is also a good idea. They may have a list of providers whose services are covered by your particular insurance policy.
