This event is focused on educating and encouraging student leaders and staff across the country to work towards building equitable campuses and futures.

We are looking for sophomore or junior students who display an interest in leadership, diversity, equity and inclusion.

Chasing Equity is a discussion and action-based convention where students engage in an anti-prejudice curriculum that push them to develop initiatives to make their campuses more equitable. Our purpose is to develop culturally educated environments in academic institutions, education on equity and excellence policies, and teach student leaders to create their own Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.
